THE FRUIT and GREEN MARKET CUSTOMS of the City of Edinburgh, are to be sold by public roup till Martinmas next, upon Thursday the 26th current, at one o'clock afternoon, in the Old Juiciary Court House.

A VAGRANT APPREHENDED.
UPON Thursday, the 3th of December current, a BEOGARD WOMAN having gone into several shops in Linlithgow, under pretence of purchasing flannel, the Magistrates, from some suspicious circumstances, thought proper to cause her to be apprehended and search her, when, to their astonishment, was found in different bags fastened about her, no less a sum than 1211 Sterling, all in Silver, One Guinea Note, One Five Shilling Note, and some Halfpence. Upon being examined, she still her name was HELEN ROSS, that she was born in the town of Crail, in Fife, which she left about 12 years ago, and that she has since travelled the whole of the North, the West, and South of Scotland, and had collected every farthing of the money by begging.—It was observed that she had several times been apprehended and carried before Magistrates and Justices of the Peace, and imprisoned, and always again set at liberty. Nevertheless, the Magistrates have committed her to prison for further examination, and hereby request, that if any person knows the woman, or that she has come by such a sum of money, or any part of it illegally, they will immediately give information by letter, addressed to the Provost of Linlithgow.

She says she was apprehended and put in prison at Kinross, also by Mr Maie of Powislogic, and imprisoned at Alloa.

I TAKE great pleasure in transmitting to you, for the information of the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, a letter I have just received from Captain Temple, of his Majesty's sloop Jalouse, giving an account of his having captured the French lugger privateer the Fantaisie, belonging to Dunkirk; which I had sent him in quest of on the 24th of last month; and have no doubt the uniform zeal and exertion of this officer will meet with due attention from their Lordships.

I am, &c. DUNBAR.

His Majesty's Sloop Jalouse at Sea, Nov. 30, 1799.

YESTERDAY I had the good luck to fall in with the privateer your Lordship sent me in quest of, and after a chase of five hours I captured her; she is a new copper-bottomed lugger, of fourteen guns and sixty men, called the Fantaisie, of Dunkirk, and had the day before taken four loaded colliers, close in with Flambro' head; I determined to get towards Ostend, and this day I retook the Sally of Lynn, one of her prizes, the other I have great hopes of falling in with; I feel great pleasure in having rescued four masters and thirty-five British seamen from the horrors of a French prison. The lugger is just refitted, well stored, cost two thousand six hundred pounds sterling, and I think well calculated for his Majesty's service.

I have the honour to be, &c.

J. TEMPLE.

Right Honourable Lord Viscount DUNBAR, Commander in Chief, &c.

Copy of a letter from Vice-Admiral LUTWIDGE, Commander in Chief of his Majesty's Ships and Vessels in the Downs, to EVAN NEPEAN, Esq. dated the 3d inst.

SIR,
I HEREBY transmit, for the information of my Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, a letter I have received from Captain Lloyd, of his Majesty's sloop Raccoon, giving an account of his having captured a French lugger privateer of fourteen guns and four swivels.

I have the honour to be, &c. &c.

S. LUTWIDGE.

His Majesty's Sloop Raccoon, Dover Roads, Dec. 3, 1799.

I BEG leave to acquaint you, that yesterday morning at day-light, Portee E. S. E. I fell in with a French lugger privateer, to which I immediately gave chase, and an hour after I had the satisfaction to capture her; she proves to be Le Vrai Decide, of fourteen guns, four swivels, and fifty men, (nine of whom had been left on shore when the failed,) commanded by Citizen Defgardier; belongs to Boulogne, out thirty hours, in company with three others, and had not taken any thing. His Majesty's ship Cormorant was in sight, and joined in the chase.

I have the honour to be, &c. &c.

ROBERT LLOYD.

Sheffington Lutwidge, Reg. Vice-Admiral of the Red, &c.

Copy of a letter from Vice-Admiral LUTWIDGE, Commander in Chief of his Majesty's Ships and Vessels in the Downs, to EVAN NEPEAN, Esq. dated the 5th inst.

SIR,
I HAVE the pleasure of transmitting, for the information of my Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, a letter which I have received from Captain Lloyd, of his Majesty's sloop Raccoon, giving an account of his having captured on the 3d inst. L'Intrepide French privateer, of sixteen guns and sixty men, belonging to Calais. The Raccoon anchored in the Downs this morning; and I have the satisfaction of learning from Lieutenant Coxwell, that the wound which Captain Lloyd has received in the head from a half-pike is not dangerous. He also informs me, that soon after the action the Stag cutter joined, and went in pursuit of the brig mentioned in Captain Lloyd's letter.

His Majesty's Sloop Raccoon, Dover Roads, December 4, 1799.

I BEG leave to acquaint you, that yesterday at ten P. M. Dover north about five or six miles, I observed a lugger board a brig; I soon discovered her to be an enemy, and made all sail in chase; after a running fire of about forty minutes I laid her alongside, when we were received with a smart fire from the cannon and small arms, which was immediately returned with success; finding ourselves unable to make any further resistance, bowsprit and foremast gone, they thought fit to strike. She proves to be L'Intrepide, of Calais, mounting sixteen guns and sixty men, quite new, commanded by Citizen Saillard, failed from Boulogne four o'clock yesterday evening.

I feel myself much indebted to Lieutenant Coxwell (the only commissioned officer I had on board) for the great assistance I received from him, as well as the other officers and men for their attention in obeying my orders. It is with satisfaction I have to state (through Providence) that there is only one man wounded and myself slightly. The privateer has lost thirteen in killed and wounded. I am forty to state that the brig captured was the Welcombe, from London to Plymouth with mail; and it was out of my power to pursue her as I must have lost my foremast, all my foreheads being gone on the starboard side. It gives me particular pleasure to have deprived the enemy of a vessel which they considered the largest and best sailer from Calais; and have the honour to be, &c. ROBERT LLOYD.

At Sheffington Lutwidge, Esq. Vice-Admiral of the Red, &c.

Copy of a letter from Vice-Admiral LUTWIDGE, Commander in Chief of his Majesty's Ships and Vessels in the Downs, to EVAN NEPEAN, Esq. dated the 6th instant.

SIR,

INCLOSED I transmit, for the information of my Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, a letter which I have received from Captain Griffiths, of his Majesty's sloop Atalante, giving an account of his having yesterday morning captured a French lugger privateer, called the Succes, with six guns and forty-eight men, after first recapturing the brig Martha of London her prize.

And I am, &c. &c. &c. S. LUTWIDGE.

Atalante, at Sea, Dec. 4, 1799.

I HAVE the honour to acquaint you that this morning at half past eight, I observed a lugger in the S. W. hovering round and boarding a brig, to which I gave immediate chase; finding we came rapidly up, the call off the tow rope, and at a quarter past eleven, I sent the master in the jolly boat, without heaving-to, to take possession of the brig, left without a soul on board; and continued the chase of the privateer, then four or five miles a-head; at four P. M. in a fair chase, I had the satisfaction to come up with and take her; Le Succes, of Boulogne, Francois Matheieu Blondin master, mounting six carriage guns, and 48 men; six days from Boulogne, and taken nothing else. I found the crew of the prize on board, and learnt he to be the Martha of London, Edward Lewington master, from London, bound to Belfast, laden with sundries, taken by the privateer last night, to the westward of Dungeness.

I have the honour to be, &c. &c. &c.

A. J. GRIFFITHS.

DECEMBER 9.

On Thursday last the fleet under the command of Lord Bridport passed Plymouth Sound, standing up Channel for Torbay.

Admiral Mitchell attended on Tuesday at the Admiralty for the first time since his return from the coast of Holland.

On Tuesday Mr. Cox, the messenger, arrived at the Secretary of State's office, with dispatches from his Majesty's ambassador at the court of Petersburg.

On Thursday Lord Blayney and Colonel Clinton arrived in town; the former from the Islands of Malta and Sicily, and the latter from Marshal Suwarrow's headquarters, which were at that period settled at Augsburg. It is asserted that they brought dispatches of importance; and it is generally understood, that on the determination of the British cabinet will depend as to the future operations of the Russian army.

Lieutenant General Hunter, who now commands the troops in Canada, sets out in the spring for his Government of the Upper Province, where he is to reside; and Major General Christie Burton, who was soon expected at Quebec, will command the troops in Lower Canada, under his Royal Highness the Duke of Kent, and have his headquarters at Montreal.

A British Field officer is at present in this country, commissioned by a great Northern Potentate, to make a very large purchase of the best and most valuable horses which this country affords. Nothing but what is superlatively excellent meets with any degree of attention; but in those cases where they occur, the most liberal price is agreed to, and the money immediately paid.

On the 19th of October the 24th regiment of foot embarked at Quebec, and on the 21st of the same month sailed for Halifax, from whence it is to be sent to England.

The first division of the 34th regiment marched on Tuesday from Pool for Portsmouth, where they are to embark for the Cape of Good Hope. They are a very fine regiment of young men.

Saturday a deputation from the Irish merchants in the export trade waited upon Mr. Pitt, by appointment, and represented the difficulties they are subjected to, in the commercial intercourse with that country, owing to the high exchange, which is now 15 instead of 8 per cent. the usual average. The proposition made to the Minister, in order to obviate this inconvenience, is to receive one million of Irish bank notes in our Exchequer at the usual rate of the exchange, which Mr. Pitt seemed extremely ready to assent to, but thought that some little premium should be allowed. He requested the merchants would meet him again on Thursday next.

The relief given to the West India merchants is in this way;—a merchant having a number of hogheads of sugar may have 30l. per hoghead advanced for two months, by drawing on one gentleman payable to another; and these two must shew at the Bank an assignment of the sugar for sale. Thus on 30 hogheads of sugar he may have a bill for 900l. discounted, and to be twice renewed, if in the interim the sugar shall not be sold.

A letter received from Le Tigre, dated Coast of Cambrania, Sept. 20, relates her arrival there, to provide wood and water, neither of which could be conveniently obtained in any other part of those seas, and that Captain Commodore Sir Sydney Smith and crew were in perfect health. Our account mentions that Buonaparte, whose retreat from Egypt was unknown on board Le Tigre, had entered into a treaty after the last battle, and been induced to conclude an exchange of prisoners, to the surprise of the Turks, whose system of mercy to persons whom the chance of war had thrown into their possession seldom extended beyond perpetual confinement in the galleys.

This intelligence is further confirmed by a letter from Constantinople, Oct. 25, which, in addition to the generally gratifying report of Le Tigre, adds, that Lieut. Wright, the friend and companion of Sir Sydney in the Temple, who was stated to have died in Syria of the wounds which he received in storming the mines of Buonaparte, was recovered, and returned to his ship, to the great joy of all on board her.

PARIS, 10 PRIMAIRE, DEC. 7.

The Commission assembled, under the order of the Council, to deliberate upon the question—"Whether it be proper to establish a board of Admiralty in France?" have unanimously decided in the affirmative. The grounds of this decision are:

1. That the two fundamental divisions of the service of the Marine and Colonies, the Military and Administrative Departments, require talents and information particularly appropriated to each; that the knowledge necessary for each ought to be almost constantly combined, in order to produce any good consequence; and that from the union of men well skilled in these two branches of service, may be expected a greater number of useful ideas than any individual has either time or power to conceive, and likewise such combinations in the application of those ideas, as will prevent the improvement of one branch of the service from retarding the improvement or development of the other.

2. That as instability to the plans of service, the mode of administration, laws and regulations, and in the choice of officers, has been one of the principal causes of the defeats of the navy, and the disasters of our colonies, a contrary effect ought to be expected from an order of things guaranteeing permanence of views, regularity of operation, maturity of reflection, and impartial justice, constituting an abundant source of security and emulation for individuals.

3. That the calculation of the funds necessary for the navy, their proper employment, their exact distribution, integrity in the examination of contracts, providence in the collecting of stores, the just application of resources to necessities, the superintendence of the employment of the materials, as well as an attention to the execution of the labour, and every thing connected with order, economy, and the improvement of the naval art, are the necessary and incontestable consequences of the establishment of a Board of Admiralty.

4. That as this establishment will subdivide among several persons having the same end in view, and actuated by the same spirit, the examination of plans, the collection of materials, the details of execution, and the signing of orders and dispatches, all of which devolve at present on one individual, the necessary result must be concert, precision and dispatch in every operation.

5. That, by means of the consideration and confidence which such a Board must create in the public opinion, it is possible to engrave on the Marine certain parts of the judicial order, which, from their connection with the discipline of the fleet, the security of the arsenal, and the great maritime and commercial interests of the Republic, ought to be under the immediate superintendence of a branch of the Executive Authority, having, at its special jurisdiction, the Department of the Marine and Colonies.

Having agreed that there ought to be a Board of Admiralty in France, the Commission, agreeably to the will of the Council, has next directed its attention to the basis of such an establishment. It is much the more zealously applied itself to this labour, as it was not ignorant that this principle, capable of producing great advantages, should the Admiralty be organized according to the ideas of the Commission, would produce none at all, and in fact would prove rather injurious than useful, if it confined itself to multiplying the wheels of the naval machine, without completely retarding the main-spring.

The Commission has carefully investigated the different institutions of the English marine, and the administrative systems of other foreign nations. It thinks that France ought, like England, to give the President of the Board of Admiralty, who alone communicates with the Executive Authority, sufficient influence and power to prevent deliberative bodies from, at any time, impeding the rapid progress of the Government in circumstances which demand rapidity, and likewise to prevent the divulging of its secrets.

Every part of the draught which follows, has accordingly been modelled with the positive intention of promoting order, economy, the improvement of existing institutions, stability of determination, and, in short, all the advantages which must necessarily and incontestably arise from the union of talents and inclinations with the energy and secrecy which certain measures require, and which the unity of the assent and the action can alone guarantee.

The mode of organization which the Commission has unanimously adopted, and which it is now to propose, is the one which, after mature examination, appears to unite all these advantages. This system likewise tends to give the Supreme Maritime Authority that preponderance and dignity requisite for exciting emulation, and restoring the marine to its former lustre and glory. It should be added, that this system of maritime administration can alone oppose an insurmountable barrier to a baffle, and the effects of intrigue and favour.

The Commission has not turned its attention to the salaries which ought to be allowed to the president, the other members, and the secretary of this board. That object, it was of opinion, would better form part of the plan of organization for the Admiralty.

Article I. There shall be established a Board of Admiralty in France.

II. This Board shall be composed of a President, six Members, and a Secretary, to be appointed by the Executive Government.

III. The President shall directly communicate with the Executive Authority, receive its orders, and lay them before the Board.

IV. Every question before the Board shall be determined by a majority of votes; the President shall have three votes, except in the cases specified in the 6th and 7th articles, in which he shall have no more than one.

V. The powers vested in the Board shall be the same as those at present exercised by the Minister of Marine and Colonies.

VI. The Board shall be the only tribunal of appeal—all sentences passed by naval and military Courts Martial, and all other Courts instituted, or to be instituted, for trying offences committed in the ports and naval arsenals, in the bays and aboard all ships of war.

VII. It shall determine in the last resort all causes relative to naval prizes.

VIII. The Executive Authority shall appoint a Commissary and two Lawyers to assist the Board in the cases specified in the 6th and 7th articles.

IX. According to the decision of the Board of Admiralty, and except in the cases stated in the following article, two Members shall sign, and the Secretary shall countersign the instructions, orders and dispatches relative to all the military, judicial, scientific, administrative, economical or medical operations in the service of the Marine and Colonies; brevets and commissions of every kind; plans, accounts, and warrants of the generals and subordinate treasurers.

X. When especially authorized by the Executive Authority, the President shall singly sign the instructions given to the commanding or inferior officers of fleets, squadrons, or single ships of war, to the military or civil agents of the Executive Authority in the Colonies, and Commissioners for the temporary exercise of any rank or office.

XI. The Board of Admiralty shall organize the officers of the Central Administration of the Marine and Colonies, and appoint the principal and inferior officers in that department.

XII. The Board of Admiralty shall annually cause all the ports, and the different branches of the service in each port, to be inspected by delegates chosen out of the Board itself.

XIII. It may cause every thing connected with its powers in the Colonies, to be inspected by temporary delegates not belonging to the Board.

XIV. The Members of the Board may be appointed by the Executive Authority to the command of fleets. In this case their functions as Members of the Board of Admiralty shall be suspended; but they shall resume them on their return.

XV. The number of the Members of the Board of Admiralty assembled at the seat of Government can never be less than five.

XVI. The General and particular officers, and all officers commanding fleets, squadrons, divisions, or vessels of the Republic, shall render a direct account of their navigation to the Admiralty on their return, or on their going into any port, and on all occasions during their cruise, when the information which they may have procured at sea, shall be of such importance as to require to be transmitted.

XVII. All the Captains of privateers and merchant ships shall transmit the like accounts to the Admiralty, on their return to the Republic, during their stay in foreign ports; and on every opportunity during their voyage, if circumstances require them to dispatch information.

XVIII. All the Directors of the Customs shall likewise render an account, without delay, of the naval stores and commodities which may be in their districts from foreign countries, and make them known to the proprietors or consignees of the said stores and commodities.

XIX. All letters, dispatches, and accounts, formerly addressed to the Minister of Marine and the Colonies, shall be addressed to the Board of Admiralty, with the exception of directing by this second superscription, to the President alone, communications respecting the Marine and Colonies, invalids, and prizes, bargains, and contracts of every kind, negotiations and demands for money, with the modes of application and warrants of payment, grants of leave of absence, letters of marque, and generally, every thing connected with commerce, fisheries, naval discipline, the execution of the laws, and the improvement of naval institutions. These signatures are indispensable to give effect to the orders or dispatches, which, according to the 10th article, cannot be opened but by their President.

Paris, 6th Primaire, 8th year.

The dignified liberality which pervades the whole of the British service experienced a return in the case of the first captured of the two Spanish frigates not creditable to that ship. Her crew having represented that they had private ventures on board, were directed by the Captain of the Eulalie to take what belonged to them, in consequence of which some of the petty officers are said to have each carried off to the amount of 2,000 dollars, and that no less than 100,000 were possessed in this way by persons that never had a particle of right in them. A similar application was made by the 2d frigate, but in referring to the utmost the actual property of the prisoners, care was taken to stop there; the British officers at the same time requesting those of Spain to take from them whatever sums they wanted, and to permit them to make presents to the sailors, both of which the others thought proper to decline.

The dollars which have been brought to the Bank are still the property of the captors, whose agents have demanded a larger price for them than the Bank is disposed to give. It is not unlikely that they will be offered to the merchants in lots.

A newly constructed musical instrument (made originally for the late Queen of France,) was brought to Vienna in September last, where its powers attracted the admiration of every lover of music. This instrument is the only one of its kind, in the form of a harpichord, with metal strings, the sounds of which are raised to a pitch equal to those of an organ, by means of hidden bellows which are kept in motion by strings. Its tones are far more melodious than any other instrument whatever, bearing a great resemblance to the human voice.

CHILD-MURDER.

On Friday evening a Coroner's Inquest was taken at the Plough, in Beaufort-buildings, on view of the body of a male child, supposed to have been murdered.

It appeared, that the mother of the infant had been hired as a servant to Mr. Random, of the Strand; that on Tuesday last, Mr. Random being about to move from his residence, the family were busy in packing up the furniture; that on the evening of that day their servant exhibited signs of extreme uneasiness and illness; but as she had been very attentive during the day in packing up, it was supposed she might be tired, and was desired to go to bed. On the morning of Wednesday, she was leaving her room at the usual time, Mrs. Random went upstairs, and discovered her in bed in a very distressing situation. Mrs. R. expressed her suspicions that she had been delivered of a child, which she denied; but on Mrs. R.'s looking under the bed, she found a bundle, and on opening it, a newborn male child was discovered, bleeding at the nose and ears. The child was at this time living. A surgeon was immediately sent for, but too late to save it; the mother, however, received assistance, and was conveyed to the Workhouse of St. Clement Dane's.

On inspecting the child, it was found it had received a cut in the tongue with an edged instrument, and that the blood proceeding down the throat, had produced suffocation. Besides this, there were two marks, one on each side of the throat, apparently as if the infant had been pinched.

On enquiry, the mother had not provided any articles proper for the birth of her child.

The Jury found a verdict of wilful murder against the mother.

EDINBURGH—DECEMBER 12.

Monday morning arrived the Hamburg mail. It brings the official intelligence respecting the future of the fortresses of Ancona, which we briefly announced on the authority of private letters.

The preceding part of the same paper contains a report of the operations of General Kray, from the 31st of October to the 8th of November, the most material of which has already been mentioned in this paper.

Accounts from Italy say, that the corps of Generals Haddick, Karaicz, and Rohan, have joined General Kray, who is marching against Gavi, on the road to Genoa.

A letter from Turin states the loss of the French army, in the actions with Generals Melas and Kray, from the 4th to the 8th ult. are 13,000 men. The fourth of Switzerland is now thought to be in danger of being attacked by the victorious troops under General Melas.

Respecting the final destination of the Russian army in Germany, the accounts vary.

An article from the Lech, (perhaps Augsburg) of the 25th ult. states generally, that the Russian army is in full motion to return to Russia. The departure of Field Marshal Suwarow, with the head-quarters, was to take place in a few days.

On the other hand, they write from Ratibon, that Field-Marshal Suwarow has received counter-orders, and that his army is to march to the Rhine.

A Supplement Extraordinary to the Petersburg Court Gazette, of the 15th of November, contains the following letter, which proves how far the Cabinets of Vienna and Petersburg, are, or at least, have been, at variance:

"Taverne, Sept. 9. 1799.
"Lord Mulgrave had repeatedly assured me, that the English Ministry never thought of bringing the troops of your Imperial Majesty into Switzerland, until the Archduke Charles had completely cleared the country of the enemy. He also told me that Baron Thugut had given the most solemn assurance, to the British Minister at Vienna, that the Archduke should on no account quit Switzerland. Yet he deceived him with those assurances, and meanwhile procured the Archduke to leave Switzerland."

We have by the St. Petersburg Gazette the official relation of Prince Suwarow, beginning from the 31st of August to the 3d of October, during which period the Russians appear to have surmounted innumerable obstacles.

On the Rhine and Neckar, nothing new has lately occurred.

It is reported at Vienna, say private letters, that negotiations for peace have been carrying on for some time past, between the Spanish minister there and Baron Thugut.

It also appears, that the French are again intriguing at Berlin and elsewhere.

Some few Paris papers were received in London, on Saturday, but none of a later date than those which arrived in the course of last week. One of them states, that an English frigate with emigrants and arms on board, had been lost on the French coast; we trust this account will appear to have been unfounded.

A report has prevailed in Paris to the effect of what is stated in an extract of a letter from Sicily, namely, that a squadron sailed for the Mediterranean some time since, from L'Orient and Rochefort:—this also lacks confirmation.

According even to the Paris papers it does not seem that the new plan of a constitution which has been published, is genuine.

Lord Bridport's fleet has again returned to port.

We are assured by an officer recently returned from looking into Brest, that the French force in that port consists of 33 ships of the line, and the Spanish of 19 of the same description, which account materially corresponds with others received from authorities believed correct.

The Prince of Orange packet which brought the Hamburg mail, also brought a French messenger, Citizen BARNIERE, with dispatches, a Portuguese courier, and Mr. BAILLIE, a King's messenger. It was strongly reported in London on Sunday, that the dispatches from France contain proposals for peace; and, in corroboration of this, we have been informed that a gentleman in this city, holding a high official situation, received letters yesterday from London, mentioning that it was probable a peace might soon be expected.

We are assured that the produce of wheat, in the north western part of America, is beyond all precedent great, and selling for 13d. per bushel, notwithstanding orders to a large amount had been received for the supply of the English market.

The public will learn with much pleasure, that the prices of grain have fallen considerably in the London market. Wheat is down full 6s. and oats 7s. per quarter; and even with these declensions the sales were very dull, the buyers expecting a still greater reduction.

The quantity of the new copper coinage is certainly much more than is necessary for the common purposes of circulation. It is a fact worthy of notice, that 1420 tons of copper, coined at the present standard, would be sufficient to furnish eight millions of people with sixpence each. The whole of the copper coined in this country to the time of George the Second, and including his reign, before the base copper came into circulation, did not exceed 1000 tons, and the deficiency was complained of. The quantity of base copper coin, now in circulation in this country, is estimated at upwards of 2000 tons.

His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales has made a present of a Scotch Horn, very beautifully mounted in gold, with a Scotch pebble at the top, to the Marquis of Huntly, as a proof of his esteem for the gallant conduct of that young Nobleman in Holland. There is an inscription on the lid in Erse to the following purport: "The son of the King, to his friend the son of the Duke of Gordon."

We have Dublin papers of the 5th, 6th, and 7th inst. They contain no news of importance. NAPPER TANNER and his Associates are still detained in custody there.

The Russian Concert yesterday in George's Street Assembly Rooms, for the benefit of the Public Kitchen, produced 46l. 6d. Mr. Boaz's exhibition 21l.

On Tuesday last, the Sub-Committee appointed to digest regulations for the Public Kitchen established in this city, gave in their report to a General Meeting of Subscribers. It was ordered to be printed, and is now, we understand, in the press for the information of the inhabitants, and of such other towns or villages as may intend to erect similar institutions.

A Correspondent asks, "In the present times when grain and provisions of all kinds are so scarce and dear, and the wants of the poor so great, would it not be proper for those who are in the habit of using hair powder to give up the use of it, whilst the present scarcity continues?—It certainly consumes a vast quantity of wheat, which at present might be much better applied. Our correspondent adds, that he is happy to notice that Lord CORNWALLIS has prohibited the use of it by the troops in Ireland, and hopes the laudable example will be immediately followed in this country." (The writer of the above and several of his friends have adopted the above plan.)

On Thursday evening last, an alarming fire broke out in a warehouse, in the Castle Gate, Perth, which entirely consumed the same. Luckily the property is insured in the Sun and some other Offices.

On the 6th of November last, Mr. ALEXANDER BOWER, Preacher of the Gospel, was admitted to the pastoral charge of the Relief Congregation at Aberdeen.

On the 5th current, the College of St. Andrews conferred the degree of Doctor in Medicine on Mr. ALEXANDER ANDERSON, Surgeon of his Majesty's ship Leviathan.

The Leslie Volunteers, commanded by Captain WILLIS, were on Thursday last inspected by the Right Honourable the EARL OF DALKEITH, Colonel of the 4th regiment of North British militia, who was pleased to express his approbation of their state of discipline.

On Sunday arrived in Leith Roads the Iris frigate, Capt. BRISCA, with the Eliza, STEWART, and Mannie, DOBIE, from Petersburg, and several other ships from the Baltic. The ships came from Elsinore about ten days ago with a fleet of about 150 sail, under convoy of the Iris frigate, two sloops of war, and an armed ship. When the fleet made the coast, Capt. Briska made the signal for their separating into four divisions, one of the sloops of war taking charge of the ships bound for Liverpool, another the ships bound for London, &c. the armed ship the vessels bound for Hull, &c. and the Iris took charge of the ships bound for this Frith and the neighbouring ports.

Tuesday evening, a sailor belonging to an American vessel now in Leith Harbour, beat a woman in her own house in Leith, so cruelly with a stick, as to occasion her death. We have not heard the cause of his conduct, but he has been apprehended and committed to prison.

A correspondent who has kept, for several years past, a correct journal of the weather, has sent us the following statement of dry days during the present year—

February 9	August 7
March 18	September 12
April 10	October 10

By the above statement our readers will find, that, of 334 days, 148 only have been free from wet, and that 186 (constituting a majority of 38 days) have proved rainy!

HIGH COURT OF JUSTICIARY.

Monday, came on before the High Court of Justiciary, the trial of ANDREW HOLMES, accused of breaking into the shop of Philip Taylor, spirit-dealer, Lawn-market, on the night between the 9th and 10th of March last, and stealing from thence 70l. in cash and notes;—of breaking into the shop of Alexander Livingstone, grocer, Cross-causeway, on the night between the 13th and 14th of May last, and stealing from thence upwards of 135l. in copper-money;—and of breaking into the shop of Mrs. Spottiswood, in the Grass-market, on the night between the 20th and 21st of May, and stealing from thence some snuff-boxes, and several parcels of razors.

Mr. DOUGLAS, for the panel, made no objection to the relevancy of the libel, but stated at considerable length the manner in which the panel had become acquainted with a gang of young thieves, and that he alone remained in custody for trial, although he was by no means guilty of the heavy crimes laid to his charge.

The first witness called for the prosecution was PHILIP TAYLOR, spirit-dealer, who swore that his shop in the Lawn-market was broken into late on Saturday night, the 9th, or early on Sunday morning, the 10th of March last, from the back area, by a window which looks into James's Court, which he did not discover till the Sunday forenoon; when he went to fetch a pair of gloves he had left in the shop. He was the last person in the shop the preceding night, and is sure it was properly locked. The window by which the thieves had entered, was secured by a cross bar, which was broken off. On the Sunday he entered the shop by the street door, and found things in much disorder; an attempt had been made to burn a middle door between the fore and back shop, but that not succeeding, it had been burst open. Upon opening the shutters, he found that the shop had been broken into, and his desk, as well as the till forced open, and their contents carried away. His desk contained 60l. in notes and gold, and the money carried off amounted in all to about 70l. He found a lady's cap and some false hair, in the shop, which he identified, and a small penknife. He had two torn 5s. notes, which were likewise taken away, but on the Monday he found half of one of them (a Falkirk note) which he meant to throw away; but his wife advised him to keep it, and he did so. The counter-part of this note he afterwards saw, in two pieces, in the Sheriff Clerk's Office. Mrs. Taylor, Bailie Hill, Mr. Gardner, apothecary, and Mr. Main, painter, were in the shop after the discovery was made, and saw the state in which it was found. Mrs. TAYLOR corroborated her husband's evidence, respecting the breaking into the shop, the torn note, &c.

The evidence of Mr. GARDNER, apothecary, and Mr. MAIN, painter, went to confirm that of Mr. and Mrs. T. respecting the confusion in which it was found, the marks of violence on the middle door, &c.

Miss GRACE STEWART, milliner in Edinburgh, said, in March last, on a Saturday night, she was returning from Mr. Theatre, and in coming along the North Bridge, near Mr. Izett's shop, she was met by three riotous young men, who pulled off her bonnet, and the handkerchief over it, and ran away with them. Some days after, having seen some hand-bills reciting the robbery of Taylor's shop, and knowing the bill dress from the description to be her own, she went to the shop, where she saw her bonnet and handkerchief. She identified them in court.

JAMES HINDS, drummer in the regiment of Royal Edinburgh Volunteers, was next called. It was objected to this witness, that he was not more than 13 years and 10 months old. The Court repelled the objection. After a very proper exhortation from the Lord Justice Clerk, the witness was sworn, and said, That on Saturday night, about seven o'clock, he met the prisoner and one Menclaws, at the head of the North Bridge, and went with them to a public house, foot of the Canongate, where they staid till 11 o'clock. In coming up street, Menclaws proposed to break open Taylor's shop head of the Bow. They went thither, and got through an old house into Taylor's shop, by a back window. The witness was helped up by the other two, and after lifting the sash, forced open the shutters with his hands and feet; all the three went in. Menclaws afterwards went out and brought a lighted candle. They broke open a door, which they had first attempted to burn, and afterwards forced another. Menclaws forced open a desk with a knife and took out a considerable sum of money, which he divided among them. They also drank some spirits.

The witness got a 5s. note, much torn, that night, half of which he preserved, but dropped it purposely in the close where his mother lives, in the Castlehill, fearing a discovery. It was found by a lodger of his mother, but afterwards seized in the hour by a sheriff officer. He got 7l. of the booty for his share which he hid in Todd's old tan-work, but never got it again. He says the panel got part of the money from Menclaws. After the robbery they dispersed, but he saw Holmes and Menclaws next day. Witness also swore, that after coming from the Canongate they went along the North Bridge, when he (witness) pulled off a lady's head-dress, which he afterwards left in Taylor's shop. On the Sunday, Cuffie, a baker, who is acquainted with the panel, called at his mother's, and said he suspected that Menclaws, the panel, and the witness, had broken into Taylor's shop, and if he did not give him some money, he would go to a magistrate and inform. He gave no money that day, but did the next, and confessed the robbery.

ROBERT CURRIE, journeyman baker.—Witness knows the panel and Menclaws. Heard of Mr. Taylor's shop being broken into; was in Mrs. Hislop's house on the Sunday, between eleven and two; does not recollect whether he went to see the mother or the son, or both. He asked the son whether he had seen Menclaws. He had no money from Himlop that day; but some days after received four 5s. notes, by Menclaws's orders he believes; knows not why the money was offered to him; but was by this time informed of the robbery of Taylor's shop. Saw Holmes on the Monday. On the Sunday night was with Menclaws, Holmes, Ramage, and Hislop, in a house of bad fame in the Cowgate, and saw Menclaws and Hislop had money, as they paid the bill. In the course of the week some of the three owned the robbery of Taylor's shop, and also that they had taken a lady's head dress on the North Bridge.

It having appeared evident to the Court, that this witness prevaricated in giving evidence, and refused to tell the whole truth, he was sent to prison.

JOHN McLEOD, a private in Col. McLeod's regiment, heard Menclaws repeatedly acknowledge, before Holmes, that they had broken into Taylor's shop, and taken 50l. out of it.

WILLIAM RAMAGE, heard of Taylor's shop being broken. Thinks that Menclaws told him, he, Holmes, and Hislop, had broken into it, and got a deal of money. On the Sunday Menclaws gave witness a note, which he said would help him on his road, as he was going away on the Monday.

MR. LIVINGSTONE, grocer, Cross-causeway, said his shop was broken into by the back window. About 15l. mostly copper, carried off, and two bad dollars. His watch-dog died two days after; supposes him to have been poisoned.

JAMES HISLOP, a former witness, again called, said, he, Menclaws and Holmes, broke into Livingstone's shop, after robbing Taylor's.—He met with them on the street; they went to the Cross-causeway; entered the shop by a back window; had a candle, found a great deal of copper money. The money was hid in holes in the Meadows; he got 1s. 6d. of it. Knows that Mrs. Spottiswood's shop was broken into, but was not present. Menclaws and Holmes were; and some days after witness got a snuff-box and two razors, which Menclaws said were taken out of said shop. He hid them in his mother's house, but they were afterwards found by the officers. Remembers McLeod in the Meadows with Menclaws and Holmes, looking after the copper that had been hid.

JOHN McLEOD, again called, said, Menclaws (in the presence of Holmes) told witness that he, Holmes, and Hislop had broken into Livingstone's shop, and taken 15l. The witness afterwards went to the Meadows where they got up the copper money out of the ground, and carried it off in their aprons to the back of the castle, in which the witness assisted. Menclaws told the witness that he and Holmes had broken into Mrs. Spottiswood's shop in the Grass-market, and they went to the Meadows where the witness saw some razors which were concealed there.

MARGARET LENTY heard Holmes and Hislop say, they had broken into Livingstone's shop, and carried off a considerable sum in copper in a bag which they had concealed at the back of the Castle, near Wallace's Tower. Heard Menclaws and Holmes say that they had broken into Mrs. Spottiswood's shop; both of them had snuff-boxes in their pockets, and McLeod had a razor, and heard Menclaws and the panel say a number of razors were hid in a field. Was at this time drinking with Menclaws, panel, and McLeod.

Mrs. Spottiswood said her shop was broken into the end of May. The window-shutters were broke, and several things taken away, but she could not tell the amount.

WM. CROOKS and JOHN BORNAN, servants to Mrs. Spottiswood, identified several parcels of razors produced.

DAVID KENNEDY, sheriff officer, searched Mrs. Hislop's house, and found a bad dollar, and half a five shillings Falkirk note. On a second search he found a snuff-box. Holmes whom he apprehended in the Meadows, escaped from him, but was retaken; there were found on him some snuff-boxes, and between 5s. and 6s. in penny and halfpenny pieces.

WILLIAM MIDDLETON, sheriff officer, searched Holmes's father's house, where he found a bad dollar, and afterwards went with McLeod to a garden west of the Meadows, where a bag was taken out of the ground, with parcels of razors in it, which bag he identified. McLeod also took the witness to the back of the Castle, near Wallace's Tower, but nothing was found there.

JOSEPH MACK, sheriff-substitute, identified the five shilling's note, and the panel's declarations. Cross-examined, said the panel, at the emission of his first declaration, seemed much agitated, and at his second declaration fell on his knees to the witness and Mr. Scott, requesting to be admitted as a witness against Menclaws, which the witness said could not be, but advised him to tell the truth. There was no promise of reward made to the boy Hislop on his examination.

MR. SHERIFF CLERK and MR. ROSE, writer, also identified the declarations, which were then read, and closed the evidence for the Crown.

For the panel the only witness called was JAMES WATT, bookbinder, who said Holmes was with him for 15 or 16 months as an apprentice, and till within a short time of his apprehension. He had no doubt of his honesty; and would take him back if acquitted of this charge. Since he left his service, some weeks before his apprehension; he had never seen him till now.

The Jury was then charged on the part of the Crown by the Lord Advocate, and for the panel by Mr. J. P. Grant. The Lord Justice Clerk summed up the whole in a candid and impartial speech. The Jury were then enclosed, and appointed to return their verdict on Tuesday, after the rising of the Court of Session, which they accordingly did, all in one voice finding the panel guilty of the two first charges in the indictment, and by a plurality of voices found him also guilty of the third charge.

When the Jury returned their verdict, it was recorded; after which the Chancellor rose and addressed the Court, saying, "he was instructed by the Jury to state, that, from the facts established by the witnesses, they had found the prisoner GUILTY, but they begged leave to request of their Lordships to recommend him to the Royal mercy, on account of his youth, and that it appeared he was not the principal leader in these depredations."

Lord Justice CLERK, in very strong terms, expressed the high opinion he entertained of the jurymen who from time to time were called upon to discharge that important duty in this city; and, indeed, added his Lordship, the jurymen in Scotland at large. The verdict which had been returned in the present case, was certainly fully justified by the facts which had been proved by the several witnesses adduced in the trial. As to the application which had been made to the Court, to recommend the prisoner to his Majesty's mercy, he was sure it was the inclination of all their Lordships to pay every attention to any request coming from the Jury, but he was sorry to say, and he now stated it for the information of all Juries, that the Court could not interfere in this respect. Had the time been such as to admit of a punishment in the discretion of the Court, an application by the Jury for their Lordships to inflict a lenient sentence, would no doubt have met every attention. The panel's friends, said his Lordship, will, however, find a mode of conveying the recommendation in his favour to the seat of mercy.

After his Lordship had concluded, the prisoner addressed the Court, in a few words, to the following effect:—

"My Lords, I throw myself entirely on the mercy of the Court, and I hope your Lordships will have some compassion on me, for I am a very young man, and have been led away by bad company. If you would be so good as put any corporal punishment on me, or transportation, I would be very much obliged to your Lordships."

These few words he delivered with great simplicity, but evidently with so much earnest anxiety, as depicted in strong colours the painful feelings of his mind. He is about 16 years of age.

Lord Justice CLERK addressed the prisoner in language peculiarly adapted to his awful situation. He reminded him of his past conduct, which had brought him to his present unhappy condition; he admonished him to employ the short time he had to live in a proper manner, and informed him that the Reverend Clergy in the city and neighbourhood would readily afford him their assistance. After many other salutary advices, his Lordship concluded by pronouncing the sentence of the law, appointing the panel to be hanged at the usual place of execution, on the 22d January next.

Gouffier for the Crown.—The Lord Advocates, and JOHN BURNET, Esq.—Agent HUGH WARREN, Esq.

For the Panel.—JOHN PETER GRANT, and GEORGE DOUGLAS, Esqs. Advocates.—Agents Messrs. A. LESTON RAMAGE, W. S. and ALEX. GRANT, junior, Writer in Edinburgh.

ROBERT CURRIE, journeyman baker, who was a witness on this trial, was then brought to the bar, for prevaricating on oath before the Court. After delivering their opinions, their Lordships ordained CURRIE to be imprisoned till the 18th inst. on which day he is to stand on the pillory from twelve to one, with a label on his breast with the following words, "For gross prevarication, and concealment of the truth upon oath."

The garden, measuring about 34 falls, is inclosed on two sides with a high wall, and at the bottom of which is situated a neat little summer-house of two apartments, one of which is decorated with shell-work in a very tasteful manner. The whole contains a beautiful prospect of Arthur Seat and the surrounding country. There is an excellent pump-well, to which the premises will have a right in common with the purchasers of the other lots.—It is at present rented so low as L.410; but with very little improvement a considerable rise would be obtained.

II.—THE DWELLING-HOUSES and Two Gardens, possessed by Mess. Orr baker, Morrison land-urveyor, Berry, and others, renting about L.230. There are two neat little houses in this lot, each fit to accommodate small families, and two Gardens, besides Green Plots fronting the houses, which, being bordered with thriving trees, gives the front a most rural appearance. The garden possessed by Mr. Morrison is surrounded on two sides with a good wall, and there are in it a number of fruit trees, and currant and gooseberry bushes, which bear plentifully. The garden possessed by Mr. Orr has been laid out lately in a very handsome manner, and is of sufficient dimensions to afford a quantity of flowers and garden stuffs. The measurement of this lot, including the side of the houses, is about one rood and eleven falls.—The premises are well adapted for the country residence of a gentleman, who, being engaged in business in the city, would wish to have his family situated in country quarters within ten minutes walk of the Cross. The tenants will view the premises; and for particulars intending purchasers may apply to Alexander Verrie, writer, Royal Exchange, who is possessed of the plan and title deeds of the subjects.

SALE OF LANDS IN EAST LOTHIAN.
To be Sold by private Bargain.

THE very valuable Lands and Estates of FANTASSIE, HOUSTON, HOUSTON-MILN, LINTON, LINTON-MILN, EAST FORTUNE, MYRESIDE, and GOODFELLOWS LAND, lying in the county of Haddington, altogether in one lot; or, as several applications have been made for a division of the estates into lots, the proprietor will now treat for a sale thereof, in the following lots, viz.
Lot I. Comprehending the Lands and Estate of Fantassie, lying in the parish of Prestonhaugh, on the south side of the river Tyne, and the Lands lying between the river and the estate of Smeaton, all as at present in the occupation of Mr. George Rennie, with the Waulkmiln of Houston, possessed by Andrew Meikle, containing 352 A. 1 R. 9. of very rich land, together with the Salmonfishings belonging to said lands.
Lot II. The Lands of Linton, with the Miln of Linton, at present under lease to Mr. Rennie, consisting of 121 acres and 33 fells, with the feus of Linton and Common belonging thereto, all lying on the north side of the river Tyne, and within the parish of Prestonhaugh.
Lot III. The Lands and Estate of East Fortune, Myreside, and Goodfellows Lands, lying in the parish of Atholtonford, and consisting of 675 acres, as at present possessed by John and James Howdens.

These Lands are delightfully situated in the richest and most beautiful part of East Lothian, and are in the highest state of cultivation. They lie about twenty miles from Edinburgh, and about five miles from Dunbar and Haddington.
The river Tyne divides lots first and second, on each of which there is a Miln, and a command of water, with an eligible situation for carrying on an extensive Manufacture, and the high road from Edinburgh to London intersects the property.
On Lot first there is a valuable Limestone Quarry, wrought by the tenant, affording an abundant supply of lime, not only for his own farm, but also for sale, and which the proprietor has also an unlimited power to work for his own account, on paying surface damages.

The greater part of the Village of Linton and a Distillery are situated on Lot second, and the proprietor, besides the 121 acres before mentioned, has right to a Common in the neighbourhood, containing 60 acres of very improvable land, subject to certain servitudes of pasturage.
The tack duty of the above lands, which is at present only from gool to 1000, consists chiefly of wheat, barley, and oats, payable either in kind, or in the option of the proprietor, at the rate of the highest fairs for the county of Haddington, but as the subsisting leases were agreed on about forty years ago, and for grassums paid by the tenants, the present rent is no rule by which to estimate their value, as they would yield at least three times the present rent on the expiry of the leases.

On each of the Lots there are substantial Dwelling Houses and Farm Steadings, which belong to the proprietor, and there are several beautiful and most eligible situations for a Mansion.
It is supposed that there is Coal on each of the Lots, but particularly on Lot third, and were coals to be wrought on this estate, it would yield a very great rent to the proprietor.
The Lands hold of the Crown, and stand valued in the cess books at 1216d. 12s. 4d. Scots, affording five freehold qualifications within the county of Haddington.
The title deeds, rentals, and plans of the estates, may be seen in the hands of James and Alexander Fraser, writers to the signet; and any person desirous of purchasing by private bargain, may transmit their offers to Alexander Shand, or Alexander Crombie, advocates in Aberdeen.

—H A V—
To be Sold, 14 miles East from Edinburgh,
ABOUT 3000 Stone of good Chever and Rye Grass HAY, crop 1797. It must be driven by the purchaser.
Apply to Mr. James Yule at Ormiston, or James Hope, W. S. Prince's Street.

A VALUABLE COAL TO LET.
THE COAL and COALWORKS belonging to the Town of Dunfermline, to be LET on a LEASE, for such number of years as may be agreed on—Entry at Whitsunday next, but as a new Winning will be necessary, the tenant is to have liberty to commence his operations immediately.

This Coal is well worthy the attention of Coal Masters. It contains one of the finest fields of coal in Fife, and the crop having only hitherto been wrought, it may be means of an Engine, afford very ample returns for the expense of machinery. From the quality of the coal, the vicinity to the Town of Dunfermline, and other local advantages, it will always command a ready sale; and being only betwixt 3 and 4 miles from the sea, it may also be sold for exportation.

Further particulars, with a plan of the Colliery, and a report made by an experienced Surveyor, may be learned, upon application to Robert Hutton, Town Clerk of Dunfermline, or to Thomas Scotland, W. S. to either of whom offers may be transmitted, betwixt and the 1st day of January next.

COUNTY OF FIFE.
Mill, Mill Lands, and Stations for Machinery and Bleachfields.

To be LET for such a number of years as can be agreed upon, THE MILL and MILL LANDS OF AUCHMUTIE, in the parish of Markinch, and county of Fife.—The mill lands consist of twenty Scots acres, and as they lie along the south bank of the river of Leven, possess the command of the whole water in that river, and have the advantage of a fall of considerable height. There are few situations better adapted, either for stations for Machinery, or for Bleachfields. They will be let either in one or more lots, as offerers shall incline.

The mill and mill lands are situated in the immediate vicinity of the coal-works of Balbirnie, where there is a plentiful supply of coal at a cheap rate, about one English mile from the populous and thriving villages of Leslie and Markinch, about eight miles from Kirkcaldy, and four from Dysart, and at the distance of a quarter of a mile from the great road leading from Kirkcaldy to Cupar.

Further information will be got upon applying to Mr. Robert Beaton of Pitcaide, near Kinghorn, or Crawford Tait, writer to the signet, Edinburgh; to whom offers may be made between and the 1st day of February next, when the subjects will be let.

Offers may be sent, on or before the 31st of March next, to James Heriot, writer to the signet, Edinburgh; or to the forrester, by whom they will be forwarded.

To be LET, and entered to at Whitsunday next, upon transfer to a lease now current.

THE FARMS OF BRACKLOCH, and MAINS OF OLD CALDER, as presently occupied by Mrs. White, lying within the parish of Calder, and county of Nairn, within three miles of the town and harbour of Nairn, and six from the garrison of Fort George. The Farm consists of about 139 acres, all completely inclosed and subdivided by stone dykes and thriving hedges. Upwards of 100 of these acres are arable, and the remainder may be made so at a very small expense; as the soil of the whole farm is a rich cam, and produces the best crops of all kinds in that neighbourhood. There is also upon the farm a substantial slated lodging, sufficient to accommodate a genteel family, with a complete set of office-houses, a pigeon-house, and a large garden, well stored with very productive fruit-trees of the best kinds. The lease to be transferred is for the lifetime of Mrs. White, the present occupant, and for 21 years certain after her death; and afterwards for the life of Captain White, her son, if he should survive that period. And there is annexed to the privilege of casting peats, in an inexhaustible moss, within less than half a mile of the farm standing.

For particulars respecting the transfer of this valuable and commodious lease, application may be made to Mrs. White, at Brackloch, by Nairn, Mr. Andrew Watson, W. S. Edinburgh, or Mr. Hay, Sheriff Clerk of Nairn, who will shew a plan of the farms, and point out the various accommodations annexed to them.

From a Noble Earl,
To Mr. CHINO, Apothecary, Chapside, London.

SIR,
I understand from my apothecary, that the effect of your WORM MEDICINE on my servant was complete in removing an obstruction in the first passages and bowels, but there was no appearance of worms. She had been unable to get up from her bed for above nine weeks. If she lay down or stood up the pain about the region of the stomach was increased. She had not eat solid meat for many weeks. Every medicine that two physicians and an able apothecary could venture to prescribe was given her, but without proper effect.—The warm bath alleviated the pain, but was only a temporary relief. After taking your Medicine two days in succession, she got up, and began to eat meat, and, from that time, she mended apace. Whenever the bowels are obstructed, your Medicine alone relieves her.—I am, Sir,
October 24. 1799. Your humble Servant.

Though Mr. CHINO is not at liberty to insert the name of the Noble Earl, he has obtained his Lordship's permission to shew the original letter to any of the Nobility who may doubt the authenticity of the above.

From an eminent APOTHECARY of the first respectability in Oxford,
To Mr. CHINO, Apothecary, Chapside, London.

SIR,
I feel it my duty to communicate to you, and to the Public, the extraordinary benefit I have received from your WORM MEDICINE. In the year 1791 I first perceived symptoms of worms, and from that time, till within these last three months, I have been constantly afflicted with them: reduced, languid, deprived of appetite and strength, I applied to the most eminent of the Faculty, but in vain. Entertaining, I must confess, but little hopes of any permanent relief, I was induced, by the celebrity of your Medicine, to give it a fair trial, and, on taking one box, I perceived the most favourable and astonishing change; my appetite improved daily, my complexion, from a deep yellow, recovered its former healthy appearance; and, on continuing your Medicine, I have obtained a radical cure. Having recommended your invaluable Lozenges to Dr. Chapman, head of Trinity College, and Mr. Bliss, head of the University, I have permission to use their names, with mine, as having been thoroughly cured.—I am, Sir,
Oxford, Oct. 18. 1799. Your much obliged Servant.

As opening Physic, on all occasions, Chino's Patent Worm Lozenges are peculiarly efficacious; it also cleanses the stomach and bowels of that acrid slime with which they are frequently loaded; and, by dissolving those crudities, is the means of restoring the body to health and strength.
Sold, Wholesale, at CHINO and BUTLER'S Medicinal Warehouse, Chapside, London; sold also by Mr. R. SCOTT, Apothecary, South Bridge, Edinburgh;
Mess. Landale and Co. Dundee; Dickson, Dumfries; Craigie, Montrose; Garden and Innes, Aberdeen; McDonald, Glasgow; Morrison, Perth; Brownlie, Paisley; Alexander, Dunfermline; Dempster, Cupar-Fife; Nimmo, Greenock; White, Ayr; and by the most respectable vendors of Patent Medicines in every town in the three kingdoms, with printed directions signed by the Patentees, in boxes at 5s. half boxes 2s. 9d. and for the benefit of the poor in packets at 12d.

TO BE SOLD BY PRIVATE BARGAIN.
THE LANDS OF WESTER CHAPPELLAND, and several other acres of Ground lying in the Baugh of Culross and its vicinity, extending to 20 acres or thereby. There is a valuable stratum of fire clay on the premises, which can be easily wrought, and for which a ready market can be found. The clay will be sold either jointly with the grounds, or by itself, as purchasers incline; and the acres will be sold together or in lots.
Alexander Muir at Culross, will show the subjects; and for particulars application may be made to Joseph Caivin, writer to the signet.

LANDS TO BE SOLD BY PRIVATE BARGAIN.

THE Lands of NUNLAND and GATE, lying within the parish of Lochrutton, and stewartry of Kirkcubright. The lands consist of about four hundred and twelve Scotch acres, 123 English, and lie within between three and four miles of Dumfries. They are completely inclosed and subdivided with sufficient stone dykes, and the new turnpike road from Dumfries to Portpatrick goes through them. They are bounded on the one side by the Water of Cargen for about a mile, on which there are various situations proper for the erection of Cotton Mills, with a sufficient command of water for driving the machinery at all seasons of the year; and the proprietor has liberty of resuming for that purpose whenever he chuses, and at a fixed rent, six acres of the lands lying along the side of the water. There is abundance of marle upon the premises. The present rental, which is very low, is only about 214l. Good substantial slate dwelling-houses and offices are built upon three of the farms. The proprietor has right to the teinds, which are valued, and nearly exhausted by the present stipend.

For further particulars enquire at John Clark, the proprietor at Dumfries, or John Tait, junior, writer to the signet, Queen Street, Edinburgh. The tenants will show the lands.

LUMLATHEN.
UPSET PRICE REDUCED.

SALE OF LANDS IN THE COUNTY OF FORFAR.
WITH A FREEHOLD QUALIFICATION.

To be Sold by public roup, in the Royal Exchange Coffeehouse, Edinburgh, on Tuesday the 24th day of December, betwixt the hours of two and three afternoon.

THE ESTATE OF LUMLAITHEN, for some time called FINTY, in the parish of Monyeth, and county of Forfar. The lands contain about 430 acres, 70 or 80 of which are in wood and pasture, and the remainder arable. The house is large and commodious, and, with some alterations and repairs, may be made a most convenient and comfortable residence for a large family.

The farm offices are uncommonly complete and substantial. The whole estate is completely inclosed and subdivided, and is in the highest state of cultivation, and (except a small detached part let to substantial tenants) may, together with the house, garden, and offices, be all entered to at Martinmas first. The plantations are in the most thriving state, and the situation, on the banks of a remarkably fine trout stream, adorned with hanging woods, is uncommonly beautiful, dry, and healthy. There are two roads to the turnpike leading from Dundee to Arbroath, Montrose, &c. by different approaches to the house, which is only four miles distant from the former populous and thriving town, remarkable for its excellent markets. The grounds, as well as the adjoining country, abound in game. The distance from the sea is only a mile and a half, by an excellent turnpike road, terminating in a fishing town, where there is excellent sea-bathing, and where coal and lime can be imported, and grain shipped, and adjoining to which there is a tract of links and sands for twelve miles along the shore, excellently adapted for riding or airing in all seasons. The estate affords a Freehold Qualification, and the rent roll and valuation put on it (the greater part not having been under lease for upwards of fifty years) by persons of the most acknowledged skill, are to be seen in the hands of Mess. Forthingham and Pearson, writers to the signet, who will treat for a sale by private bargain.—The title-deeds are complete.

The house and lands will be shown by William Connor, overseer on the spot.

The whole Farm Stock and Crop may be had by a purchaser at a valuation; or if this should not be agreeable, the same will be disposed of by public roup, immediately after the sale of the lands.

SALE OF LANDS IN AYRSHIRE.
Upset Price reduced from £8500 to £6500.

THE ESTATE OF SAUCHIE, lying within the parish of Maybole, and shire of Ayr, is to be exposed to public roup, within the Royal Exchange Coffeehouse, Edinburgh, on Thursday the 16th day of January, 1800, between the hours of one and two o'clock afternoon.

This estate consists of 755 English acres, and is three miles distant from the town of Maybole, six miles from Ayr, and about the same distance from coal and lime, to which there is easy access by good roads. The free yearly rent (the public burdens being trifling), is 254l. which must rise considerably on the expiry of the present leases. About 300 acres of the lands are inclosed and subdivided. The fields are in general well watered, and sheltered with hedge-rows of old trees, and broad belts of planting. There are nearly 40 acres of wood on the estate, of very considerable value, great part of which may be cut and thinned at present, with much profit and advantage.

The mansion-house is delightfully situated, with suitable offices, and an excellent garden, the whole being calculated for the accommodation of a genteel family. The farm houses are new and substantial. A purchaser may enter to the immediate possession of about 60 acres of valuable land, surrounding the house. The estate and neighbouring country abound with game, and a fine trout stream runs through the lands. A more desirable country residence is not at present to be found. This estate is held feu of the Prince; the lands are not thirled to any mill, and the teinds are valued and exhausted. An accurate measurement and plan of the property has been lately made, with an estimate of its value, including the growing timber upon the estate; and, with the title-deeds and leases, may be seen in the hands of Alexander Young, writer to the signet, No. 48, Queen Street, Edinburgh.

A copy of the plan and measurement may likewise be seen in the hands of Thomas McClelland, writer in Ayr, who will furnish every other necessary information; and the house and grounds will be shewn to any person who may apply for that purpose, at the mansion-house of Sauchie.

Offers for a sale, by private bargain, will be received by Mr. Young, any time betwixt and the day of
